

Isabel, freeway link goes to council for action

LIVERMORE — The first step of what eventually will be the extension of Isabel Avenue from Stanley Boulevard to I-580 is expected to be taken by the city council Monday night.

The Isabel Avenue extension, in Alameda County Supervisor John Murphy's mind, could provide the answer to the problem of gravel trucks traveling through Pleasanton streets, without opening El Charro Road.

Coming up for council approval Monday is a contract between the City of Livermore and Alameda County providing for a county contribution of $45,000 for the purchase of 19 acres of H.C. Elliot-owned land necessary for the extension of Isabel Avenue.

The agreement, worked out by Supervisor Murphy, County Public Works Director Herb Crowle, and Livermore City Manager Bill Parness, provides that Livermore will pick up the remaining purchase tab.

According to Parness, the total purchase price will be approximately $100,000, which means the city's share will be $55,000. Set aside in this fiscal year's budget by the city is $62,000 received from state gas tax funds for the purchase of Isabel Avenue right-of-way.

Elliot is favorably inclined to accept the $100,000 figure but wants the city to start condemnation proceedings to acquire the land for his tax purposes, according to Parness.

If the city council approves the contract Monday, it then will appear on the county supervisor's agenda sometime before the end of the month, said Murphy.

The supervisor is confident the Isabel Avenue stretch between Stanley and I-580 will receive the support of a majority of his fellow board members.

Murphy is in favor of the extension because it would alleviate the need for gravel trucks to travel through Pleasanton for access to I-580, the same problem, he said, many west side Livermore residents experience.

An Isabel Avenue between Stanley Boulevard and I-580 also would serve as an alternate solution to opening up El Charro Road added Murphy.

El Charro now is used for I-580 access from Stanley Boulevard exclusively by two sand and gravel firms, Kaiser Sand and Gravel and Rhodes-Jamieson.

"I have Director of Public Works Herb Crowle studying the feasibility and getting cost estimates for putting in the roadway through to actually tie-in with the airport, with the possibility of extending the roadway through there to take gravel trucks from Cal Rock and Lone Star to I-580, rather than going down Stanley Boulevard through the City of Pleasanton," Murphy explained.

"If we can put this road together, it will be beneficial to a great number of people in Livermore and Pleasanton by taking gravel trucks off First Street in Pleasanton — at least those heading to the Bay Area, although not those going to San Jose or Santa Clara," he added.

"This will also alleviate the problem of people on the west side of Livermore heading to Oakland and San Francisco. In getting to the freeway, a majority of them east of Isabel end up coming down Stanley Boulevard to Pleasanton and out to the freeway," Murphy noted.

Studies have shown it costs twice as much to construct a road handling heavy truck traffic than to build a standard street accommodating primarily automobile traffic. This contention received validation by Jessie Cambra, chief of the Alameda County road department of the public works department.

The Isabel Avenue extension first was to be a freeway when it was part of a state project proposing the improvement of Hwy. 84 from Vallecitos Road to I-580.

The new four-mile freeway, approved by the State Commission of Highways in the late 1950's, would re-route traffic around the west side of Livermore instead of through First Street, which runs down the middle of town.

The project, however, never was high on the state's priority list and as monies for freeway construction continued to tighten, the state two years ago decided to drop the proposal.

Livermore then approached the state and asked if the Isabel re-routing plans could be kept alive if the city and county footed the bill for the remaining land acquisition necessary for the project.

Approval was granted in February, negotiations with Elliot ensued, and the by-pass, or Isabel Avenue extension, was downgraded to a highway.

The county-city contract to be considered Monday night contains the provision that if the Elliot property is not used for the construction of a highway within six years, the county's $45,000 will be returned 30 days after so demanded.

The agreement also states that those portions of the Elliot property not needed for the highway right-of-way must be offered for sale, with the resulting revenues shared on a 45 per cent county, 55 per cent city basis.

Water unit talks plan for future

An initial discussion on approaches for developing an integrated water quality management plan for Alameda Creek watershed above Niles will be held at the Zone 7 Board of Directors meeting, Wednesday Nov. 12, 8 p.m. in the Del Valle Water Treatment Plant, Livermore.

In a letter dated Oct. 20, Zone 7 requested area water agencies and interested parties to furnish the Zone with written suggestions for the development of the plan.

The letter also invited representatives of each agency to be present at the Nov. 12 work session.

Responses have been received from Livermore-Amador Valley Water Management Agency, Bay Area Sewage Services Agency, Alameda County Water District, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, and San Francisco Regional Water Quality Control Board.

No response has been received from Association of Bay Area Governments, Pleasanton, Livermore, Valley Community Services District, Alameda County Board of Supervisors, and Congress of Valley Agencies.

An open discussion will follow the presentation of agencies' responses. Interested members of the public are urged to attend.

Pleasanton council meet

Redevelopment hearing set

PLEASANTON — The city council will meet tomorrow at 8 p.m. to consider placing the redevelopment question on the March, 1976 ballot.

Fifteen minutes later, the city council and Pleasanton Redevelopment Agency (one and the same) will hold a joint meeting to consider approval of the final draft of the $4.5 million redevelopment proposal.

At tomorrow night's long-awaited public hearing, Citizens Against Redevelopment (CARD) will make a presentation explaining their opposition to the revised plan. The revised proposal lists only six projects totaling $4.5 million to revitalize Pleasanton. They are:

- Construction of the West Las Positas overcrossing;
- Realignment of Bernal Ave. from Pleasanton Ave. to Sunol Blvd.;
- Beautify the downtown, including street furniture, landscaping, etc.;
- Construction of a mall on Division St. from Peters Ave. to Main St.;
- Extension of the Del Valle Parkway from Hopland to Santa Rita Road;
- Extension of Peters Ave. from St. John St. to Bernal.

The revised project area boundaries include only 987 people, greatly reduced from the original map under pressure from residents who didn't consider their neighborhoods "blighted."

Timing of the planned improvements will depend on the construction of the proposed Stoneridge Regional Shopping Center.

Stoneridge would provide the single greatest contribution to PRA revenue under the tax increment financing plan. Under this method, tax bases in the project area would be frozen at their current level, with increases funneled into the redevelopment agency's coffers.

Before the public hearing begins, the city council will consider placing the concept of redevelopment on the March 2, 1976 ballot for all of Pleasanton to vote on.

The city council members will then change hats and become the PRA and begin a public hearing on the revised redevelopment plan. Most observers expect the public hearing to be continued until after the March election.

CARD's Wally Mayer was delighted at the prospect of having the redevelopment question put to a vote of the people.

"We were all flabbergasted at what happened," Mayer said. He declared it a definite victory for CARD, something they had been fighting for all along.

The public hearing will also consider approval of the revised Environment Impact Report of the proposed redevelopment, which states the projects will have little impact on growth or development.

Last week's approval by the city council of a revised population ceiling figure from 76,000 to 48,700 for Pleasanton by 1996 could have negative effects on Stoneridge developers. If the developers decided the population couldn't support a major shopping center, they could pull out the main source of redevelopment funds.

City staff said the redevelopment would go ahead as scheduled even if Stoneridge wasn't built, but the projects would take longer to complete.

The public hearing will begin at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Veterans Memorial Building.

County planners to talk garbage disposal guides

Alameda County Bureau

HAYWARD — County planning commissioners will reopen public hearings on the controversial solid waste management plan when they convene tomorrow afternoon.

The draft proposal has been bantered about and currently boils down to differences between Oakland Scavenger Company and the Political Action Coalition for the Environment (PACE).

OSC objects to recommendations that "no major long-term commitment, either to private or public enterprise, be made until adequate study and comparison is made" with other possible energy and resource recovery programs.

Stern opposition also is expressed toward creation of an Alameda County Solid Waste Management Board — a proposed joint powers agency OSC claims will cost more than a half-million dollars.

The firm claims to have committed more than $1 million dollars to its San Leandro transfer station and Altamont Hills dump site.

PACE argues that the half-million dollar figure is a "figment of someone's imagination," and "totally unsubstantiated."

San Ramon candidate for county board

Eric Hasseltine will announce his candidacy for the fifth supervisorial district of Contra Costa County in a press conference set for Monday morning in Danville.

Hasseltine will make his announcement in a gathering at the Franklin Savings and Loan community room, 588 San Ramon Valley Boulevard.

The fifth district post is now held by Edmund A. Linscheid. The first ballot test would be in June of 1976, with a runoff, if necessary, in November of that year.

Counties throughout the state must be able to recover otherwise wasted resources, PACE says, and reverse the idea of burying valuable natural resources in garbage dumps.

No "long-term commitment" should be made, they argue, until adequate means of recovering 67 percent of resources and energy by 1980 and 97 percent by 1990 are explored.

Pleasanton attorney John Corley has been representing Oakland Scavenger, while environmental attorney Louisa Jaskulski has spoken for PACE.

The county must submit its plan to the state by Jan. 1, 1976.

Commissioners also will hear requests to reclassify two parcels in county agricultural districts.

The commission will meet at 1:30 p.m. in the Public Works Building, 399 Elmhurst St., Hayward.

Directors meet Tuesday

Costs threaten future fair parades

Discontinuing of the Alameda County Fair parade, a colorful institution in valley life for much of the past 40 years, will be recommended to the County Fair Association Board of Directors at that body's Tuesday night meeting.

The recommendation comes on the heels of an entertainment and special events committee (of the Alameda County Fair Association board) meeting of last week. The move has been pondered for several months in view of the dwindling financial support and interest.

Lee Hall, secretary-manager of the County

Fair Association, told The Times Friday $4,200 had been budgeted for the 1975 parade, traditionally held on opening day of the County Fair and along Pleasanton streets. He added that the parade had incurred $986 in expenses over and above the budgeted amount.

Entertainment and special events panel members questioned whether the response by the public and local merchants warrants continuance of an event that has been a part of late-June life in the valley since the mid-30s.

Jim Trimmingham and the late Ernest Schween and Sam Whiting are generally considered amongst those who brought both the fair and the parade to reality in Pleasanton.

It was the forerunner of other parades that has given Pleasanton the unofficial title of "City of Parades," the most recent being the "Good Times" parade.

Observers locally believe the latter took some of the attraction from the fair-sponsored event the past two years.

Hall said the Fair Association has had agreements with both the City of Pleasanton and Pleasanton Chamber of Commerce in past years for financial contributions of "up to $300" each. However, the chamber, because of a pressing financial situation, did not participate monetarily in the '75 event.

The city, according to Fair records, contributed $270.73 this past June, $141.35 in 1974, $230.25 in '73 and $189.53 in '72. This is in addition to manpower, including police.

Years ago, the parade used to terminate at the Veterans Memorial Building on Pleasanton's Main Street. For at least the last dozen years the Fair Association has opened up the Fairgrounds grandstand for viewing of the parade. But, according to Hall, the turnout in recent years has not warranted the expense. An estimated 250 persons saw the parade's conclusion in June.

The parade was originally a chamber of commerce-backed event but in recent years the coordination — logistics — have been handled by the Pleasanton Jaycees.

Hall conjectured that the parade could be revived if some other organization wished to pickup a major share of the financial burden.

At the same meeting where the recommendation was formulated, Charlotte Severin and Bev Hamlin of the Pleasanton Bicentennial Festivals Committee made a presentation urging board members to incorporate a Bicentennial theme into the 1976 parade.

The theme is at least temporarily a moot point.

Fair Association board members convene Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the board room of the administration building on Pleasanton Avenue.

Commercial land use on Livermore agenda

LIVERMORE — A General Plan amendment relating to the commercial zoning of land in the vicinity of Portola Avenue and the I-580 off-ramp is scheduled to be the topic of a public hearing at the city council meeting Monday night.

Opposition to the amendment already has been received from the Audlan Development Company, co-owner of a parcel in the affected area, and Harlan Geldermann, principal shareholder of Audlan Development Company.

The council will consider the amendment, as proposed by the planning commission, starting at 8 p.m. Monday in the Municipal Court Chambers, 39 S. Livermore Ave.

According to planning commission minutes where the amendment was discussed, there are inconsistencies between the General Plan land use designation and the actual existing uses in the Portola Avenue area. The General Plan amendment proposed would bring these two elements into accord.

A Negative Environmental Impact Report (which means the project will not have a significant effect on the environment) on the amendment does not propose a change in land use but rather changes existing plans and policies to conform to the land use in the area and to decisions previously made which informally changed policies relative to the area.

The amendment shows as zoned "service commercial" an area north of Portola Avenue between the freeway and off-ramp and some land south of Portola Avenue on either side of Murrieta Boulevard.

This area now includes gas stations, mobile home park, building materials store, commercial storage facility and car rental agency.

The amendment shows land immediately south of Portola Avenue as multiple low residential (eight dwelling units per acre); north and south of the freeway, open space/trailway; and north of Portola Avenue generally following the Arroyo, urban low residential (four dwelling units per acre).

Soil study to restrict Amador athletic field

The use of the Amador Valley High School athletic field will be restricted Tuesday through Thursday as the Amador school district will be doing a seismicological excavation in preparation for the erection of the library additions to the campus.

School officials note that although school is not in session Tuesday, recreational and community uses during the evening hours will occur and citizens using this area should be aware of the excavation. Although it will be covered and fenced, residents should move with caution in the area.

Recent state legislation requires that before new construction on any school site is approved, an appropriate seismic study of each site must be provided to the State Division of Architecture and Construction.

The study should be complete by Thursday evening and normal uses of the campus should be in effect Friday, Nov. 14.

Valley obituaries

Roy Chesnut

Roy L. Chesnut, 55, a native of Kansas and 10 year resident of Livermore, died Friday in an Oakland hospital following a short illness.

A World War II veteran and manager for Glenco Pest Control, he and his wife moved to the valley from San Leandro.

Survivors include his wife, Verna; daughter Carol Pasch of Livermore; son Jerry Chesnut, Hayward; and a brother, Charles, and two sisters, Marie Baker and Thelma Bouman, all of Washington.

He also leaves five grandchildren.

Services will be held Tuesday at 10 a.m. in the chapel of Callaghan Mortuary, 3833 East Ave., Livermore. Interment in Livermore's Memory Gardens Cemetery will follow.

Friends may call at the mortuary after noon, Sunday.

Valley agencies cooperate

Water quality future clear

Water quality in the west end of the valley should be on the upswing following future meetings planned between water committees from Valley Community Services District (VCSD) and Zone 7 of the Alameda County Flood Control and Water Conservation District.

Treated water from Zone 7's new Del Valle water treatment plant currently is flowing at four to five million gallons per day — half the plant's capacity of 9 mgd — while engineers "sort out the system," according to chief engineer Mun Mar.

A very overdue shipment of anthracite coal used in the filtration process also has kept water treatment below plant capabilities.

"That should be in later this month or early December," Mar said. "There's no demand right now for 9 mgd, anyway."

VCSD currently is using 73 percent Zone 7 water in the mix sold to its customers, with the remaining 27 percent coming from its own wells. Their only complaint with the zone — and public works director Doug Nelson emphasizes there is neither feud nor strained relations — is that the zone is alternating their supply between treated Del Valle water and the Zone's well water.

"It keeps shocking the system," he said of the "varying quality of water."

Water pumped from the Zone's own wells has a higher "hardness" factor, but is about the same in total dissolved solids, according to Mar. "They make up the difference with other minerals we don't have in our wells."

Once the Del Valle plant is fully operational and pumping its 9 mgd, and the Zone has tied in the other available 9 mgd from its Patterson Pass plant, Dublin and Pleasanton will get water with about a 10 percent mix of well water.

The west end retailers, however, mix the Zone's supply with their own well water thus raising the percentage of hard well water.

The Zone currently charges $99 per acre foot for water, with the rate going to $120 after Jan. 1. Both VCSD and Pleasanton can draw their own well water for much less, marry the two and make a little profit for their respective general funds.

Zone 7 is waiting for the decreased demand during the winter months to make a major change that will tie in both treatment plants to the valley wide system.

Once completed, the zone will have 9 mgd from Del Valle, another 9 mgd from Patterson Pass and 8 mgd from its wells.

The California Aqueduct water treated at both plants also varies from season to season. It's at its best in the late spring and early summer, but deteriorates as warm weather wanes.

Total dissolved solids reached peaks of 240 parts per million in March, 1973, and 250 ppm in November, 1973. Minimum readings of 140 ppm and 145 ppm were recorded in June and July of the same year.

Both west end communities are allocated "independent quotas" of their own well water. VCSD draws some 600 acre feet per year, while Pleasanton pumps about 2,500 acre feet per year.

Zone 7 has been approached by California Water Company, suppliers to Livermore, about increasing their allocation of treated aqueduct water, and VCSD also is reported to be inquiring about increasing Zone water and decreasing dependence on its wells.

Mar feels confident the state will increase the amount of aqueduct water allocated to the zone.

The new Del Valle plant, he points out, is designed to expand to 18 mgd with "minor modifications" and to 36 mgd with major improvements — "if the demand were there."

Presbyterian Church plan

At 2 p.m. today in the social hall of the church, the Building Committee of the United Presbyterian Community Church of Pleasanton will present to the members of the church, plans for moving the church and social hall to the Mirado site. The renderings of the church depicts how it will look on the new location. The committee's concern is to preserve the historic and architectural quality of the 100 year old structure in the move. All members of the congregation are urged to be at this meeting today in order to familiarize themselves with all aspects of the transition. The church will be expanded approximately 30 feet while the social hall will have approximately 17 feet added to the present size.

Veterans Day closings reported

Tuesday, Nov. 11, is the nation's traditional Veterans Day — although the official federal observance has been moved up to the last Monday in October.

In the resulting confusion,

Valley groups meet to spur communication

In an effort to improve communication between the two groups, the (CAC) and Citizens Advisory Committee the Valley Community Services District (VCSD) Board of Directors will meet Tuesday, Nov. 11 at 8 p.m. in the VCSD Board Room, 7051 Dublin Blvd., Dublin.

Differences between CAC and VCSD directors over progress on the development of VCSD's three new parks, Dublin Sports Grounds, Athan Downs, and Boone Acres came to a head at a meeting of the board of directors on Nov. 4.

CAC chairman Joe Covello reported dissatisfaction with the pace at which work on the projects is proceeding.

Covello extended an invitation to all members of the board to attend the next CAC meeting. Directors Chuck Ladner, Ann Jolley, and Richard Fahey are expected to be present Tuesday night.

Chairwoman Lila Euler and vice chairman Ron Hyde have conflicting meetings.

some public agencies have chosen to shut down for the federal holiday and some for the traditional observance. Businesses have chosen to stay open both days, in most cases.

Here's the Tuesday outlook:

SCHOOLS: closed valley-wide.

MAIL DELIVERY: regular schedule.

ALAMEDA and CONTRA COSTA COUNTY OFFICES: closed.

BANKS: open valley-wide.

CITY OFFICES: Closed in Livermore, open in Pleasanton and Valley Community Services District (Dublin and San Ramon).

LIBRARIES: all closed.

BART: operating on regular weekday schedule.

PARADES: nearest begins

10:30 a.m. at the Veterans Memorial Building in Albany.

To cap off Veterans Day, the first valley-wide American Independence Confab will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the Livermore Area Recreation and Parks Department building, 71 Trevano Rd., Livermore.

There will be refreshments and games for children. Admission is free.

Del Valle Tennis Club files suit on attorneys

A $5 million cross-complaint was filed Friday against attorneys Burke Critchfield, Mark Eaton, and John Miller by the Del Valle Tennis Club.

Three members of the Livermore law partnership Miller, Critchfield, Eaton and Noonan had earlier filed a $500,000 law suit against Del Valle Tennis Club, asking damages and declaratory relief to recapture three percent interest as stockholders, claiming they and their families had been denied playing privileges.

The cross-complaint was filed Friday in Alameda County Superior Court by attorney Carolyn Kendrick Meyer.

The principal cross-complainants are Peter Madrid and the Del Valle Tennis Club. The complaint denies allegations charged in the suit by Critchfield, Eaton, and Miller.

It declares Critchfield made fraudulent statements with intent to defraud and deceive Madrid.

The complaint further charges the actions of Critchfield and his law partners have so upset Madrid "in mind and body and have caused him such humiliation, pain, and emotional suffering, that the appearance of the cross-defendants ... could not be compensated in damages."

Madrid and Del Valle Tennis Club ask a judgment of $5 million in damages, and he also requests that Critchfield, Eaton and Miller be restrained from entering the Del Valle Tennis Club without Madrid's permission.

Pleasanton windmill rebuilt to fill lake

PLEASANTON — Kaiser Center for Technology officials soon will be using a time-honored energy saving device to help maintain water levels in the scenic little lake in front of the center.

Kaiser has installed a windmill on its property which soon will be connected to a pipe pouring water at three gallons per minute into the lake.

Actually Kaiser has not installed a brand new windmill, but rebuilt an old historic one which was transferred along with the site when the Miller family sold it to Kaiser a dozen years ago.

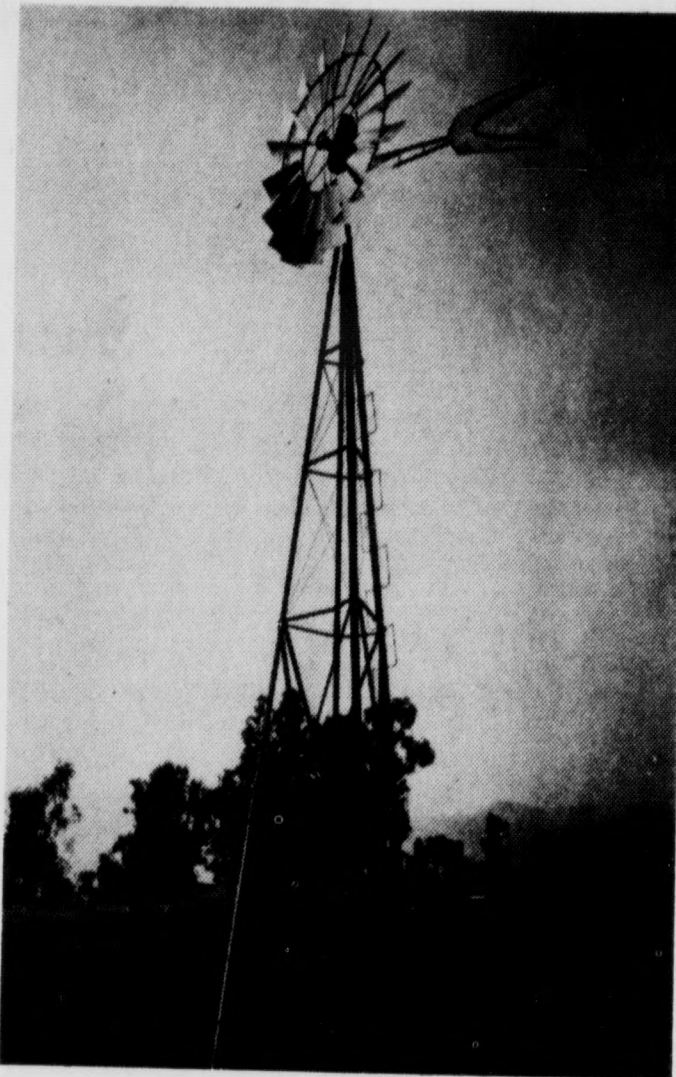

When Kaiser purchased the site, the firm agreed to restore the windmill. The opportunity arose a few months ago when a valley farmer dismantled a windmill and Kaiser obtained new fan blades and a gear box necessary for putting the old structure back in operation.

William Apperson of the Amador-Livermore Valley Historical Society recalled for the Times that the previous owner of the Kaiser property had a great affection for the old windmill, believing it to be one of the last of a dying breed in this area. Kaiser's restoration of it is a welcome addition to the historical atmosphere of the valley, said Apperson.

The well is pumping right now, but the water goes nowhere. Kaiser will change this soon by rigging a pipe to the lake, where the well will make its contribution at a rate of three gallons per second.

The water also will be used to irrigate some of the grass and shrubs on the site.

A company spokesman said the firm is pleased that it can use "self-generating power instead of electricity to pump the water and make a local historical contribution at the same time."

Valley VFW post announces Voice of Democracy contest

DUBLIN—The Charles Auer Veterans of Foreign Wars Post and Auxiliary has announced the opening of the 29th annual Voice of Democracy scholarship program for the 1975-76 school term.

The theme is "What Our Bicentennial Heritage Means to Me." All sophomore, junior and senior students in public, parochial and private schools may compete.

Participants will be judged on their interpretations of the theme. A limited use of quotations is permissible if properly identified. Students may not refer to their race or national origin as a means of identification or in any way identify themselves in the script. The recorded script must not be less than three (3) minutes nor longer than five (5) minutes.

All scripts must be transcribed on reel-type magnetic tape (not cassettes) at 7 1/2 inches per second speed using single track equipment. Care should be taken that only the student's voice be heard on the tape. Background noises can disqualify the student.

To enter your completed tape you must have the official entry form available from chairperson Dawn Rutter (828-4474) or Al Seguin (828-1724).

Charles Auer Post and Auxiliary will award a $25 savings bond to the first-place winner and a check for $10 to the second-place winner from Dublin. Both will receive an engraved pin as well. All participants will receive a wallet-sized card with their name on it.

At each level of competition the awards increase until the State winner is sent to Washington, D.C. for an all-expense paid trip.

The National first-place winner will receive a $10,000 scholarship, second-place will win $5,000, third-place $3,500 and fourth $2,500.

Brochures concerning the competition are available at Mrs. Hazen's office at Dublin High School.

Completed tapes must be in the hands of local chairperson Dawn Rutter by Dec. 5, 1975, to be eligible to be judged locally. The local winners will be sent on to the 14th District chairman.

Kiwanis club sponsoring European student exchange

LIVERMORE — The Kiwanis Club of Greater Livermore is once again offering Valley high-school students a chance to go to Germany or Austria for a year of living with a family and studying in European schools.

The program is co-sponsored by the German-Austria Kiwanis District and features an equal room and board exchange in which the European and American students who are selected live with their respective host families.

Not only will students live with host families for the school year, but they will attend a high school as an integral part of the program.

While each family will provide room and board without cost, all other expenses must be met by the student's own family — for travel, personal belongings, souvenirs and other extras.

To qualify for the exchange program, a student must submit an official application (available from program chairman Sam Cohen of 5120 Norma Way, Livermore, 443-5290); letters of recommendation from the high school principal, dean or counselor, from the high school German teacher and a member of the community; an up-to-date school transcript; an essay in German explaining why the student wants to be selected; and a letter of commitment from the parents to accept a student in exchange, for the 1976-77 school year.

A community screening committee will interview students who submit satisfactory application materials. The letters of recommendation and interview will be weighed the most heavily by the committee in making its final selection.

Deadline for submission of all materials is Dec. 1.

LLL drills deep for new gas supply

Gillette, Wyo. — A preliminary field experiment in an Energy Research and Development Administration (ERDA) program to explore a new underground gasification technology will be undertaken late this month by Lawrence Livermore Laboratory (LLL) in the Hoe Creek area of Wyoming.

The aim of the LLL technology is to produce a medium BTU gas which can be upgraded to pipeline quality gas from large coal resources too deep (500 to 3000 feet) for economic recovery by present mining methods, and with low environmental effects. It would complement other methods of increasing the contribution of coal to the nation's energy supplies.

The relatively simple initial experiment will be done at a depth of 150 feet in a 25-foot-thick coal bed underlying an undeveloped 80-acre parcel of public land 20 miles south of Gillette.

A special land use permit has been granted by the Bureau of Land Management, which is cooperating with the ERDA in the program.

In preparation for the experiment, explosive fracturing of the coal at a 150-foot depth was done Wednesday, with 1500 pounds of chemical explosives in each of two holes.

Dr. Douglas Stephens, project director for the coal program, said it may take several years to determine whether the technology is feasible.

Tuesday speaker for Mother's T Children can be taught to love books

By REINA WHITNEY

"Books are the key to the whole world. You can be anything you want to be, if you can read." Phrasing a philosophy of which she could very well be the shining example, Ruth Dearborn, emotionally expressed her love of books.

Keynote speaker for the "Mother's T" at the San Ramon Country Club, Tuesday, Nov. 11, Mrs. Dearborn admits to quitting school at the age of 14. Yet she has been a children's book evaluator for years, co-owner of three Christian Book Stores, and on the same rostrum countless of times with many leading educators.

Her insatiable appetite for books has been her mainstay and chief source of education. She feels that "The Lord has gifted me with an absorbing memory." She says she never remembers a name, but can remember books she read even in childhood.

She is currently teaching a Wednesday evening class for adults at the Valley Christian Center on the life of Christ entitled, "The Man Who Changed the World." She is also involved in another class on Sunday mornings at Dublin High's Little Theatre as part of the church's adult presentations.

Invited many times as guest lecturer at conventions and seminars, she has even lectured on visual aids for the Catholic Diocese of Oakland's CCD seminars.

Her enthusiasm for children's books is contagious. Her eyes flash when she vehemently extols the problems in teaching children today. Mrs. Dearborn fervently believes that education starts at birth. Citing a book she especially recommends for young mothers, "Dare to Discipline" by Dobson, she sadly laments that children do not learn discipline early enough.

Infants listen and can hear and very early learn to understand. Young mothers do not speak to their infants

"No matter how young, children sense the value of a beautiful thing. They deserve better than a comic book."

Ruth Dearborn, self-made expert on children's literature will address the Mother's T Tuesday, Nov. 11.

Bazaar boasts 36 club participants

In past years the crowd has been four deep and a block long an hour before the opening of the annual Christmas bazaar at Livermore's Recreation Center. This year promises to be no exception.

The joint sponsors, Livermore Senior Citizen's Club and the Livermore Area Recreation and Park District, have brought together members of 36 local groups for a two-day sale billed as "no private profit."

All groups participating in the sale Friday, Nov. 14 and Saturday, Nov. 15 are community service and non-profit.

Church workers, choral singers, seniors and business women have worked alone, in workshop groups, coffee-katch gatherings and regular club meetings to discuss, devise and create the things to be offered.

Shoppers will find stocking stuffers, dressed dolls, artwork, knitting, needlework, quilts, jewelry, leatherwork and Christmas ornaments. A snack bar will be available for recuperation between purchases.

Participating this year in the bazaar are the following local organizations:

Livermore Senior Citizens, Livermore Civic Chorus Guild, Rainbown Mothers' Club, Organic Gardeners, Twin Valley Association Retarded Children, Livermore Women's Club, Life Center of Laubach Literary, Inc., Engineers' Wives, E.S.A. Kappa Gamma Chapter, Livermore Playschool, Daughters of the British Empire.

Also, Xi Theta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, National Association of Retired Federal Employees, Starlighter Club, TOPS Chapter No. 1285, Gamma Alpha Kappa, United Methodist Women, Holy Cross Lutheran Church, La Leche, Theta Omega, Rincon Avenue School PTA, Nursery School Scholarship, Jaycee Wives, Native Daughters of the Golden West.

Also, First Baptist Church Del Arroyo 4-H, American Business and Professional Women, St. Michael's Parents, Beth Emed Sisterhood, Beth Temple, Henry School PTA, Twin Valley Mothers of Twins, Shish-Shuka Akida Campfire, Calvary Temple and Xi Pi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi.

Noted Watercolorist John Pena.

Pena to conduct outdoor multi-media workshop

Artist John Pena will conduct a multi-media outdoor workshop for local artists Nov. 15 and 16 under the sponsorship of The Valley Artists.

Reservations for the workshop, limited to 15 persons, should be made by Monday, Nov. 11 through Phyllis Couper at 462-4931. Cost of the workshop is $5 per day or $10 for both sessions, with a $2.50 fee for artists who wish to "paint-along" with the demonstrator.

A traditional and versatile painter, proficient in many media, Pena is noted for his watercolors. A free-lance advertising art director in Concord, he also teaches portrait, still-life and landscape painting at the Alameda Adult School.

The Nov. 15 workshop session from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. will present color theory, working from the primary colors to all other colors as Pena himself mixes his own colors.

Vice-principal posts to be filled soon

PLEASANTON — The selection process for teaching vice-principal positions in Pleasanton Elementary schools will be completed in "two to three weeks," according to Carl Krause, assistant superintendent for personnel.

Retention of the positions in the district has been under fire from the Amador Valley Teachers Association since last spring when the group, in its meet and confer proposal, called for abolishing of the second-in-command slots.

At a Pleasanton board meeting Wednesday, board president Al Dutchover said a written reply would be made to a letter directed to trustees by Mary Eveleth, president of AVTA.

The letter charged, "Our input (on the TVP positions) is loud and clear, and yet hiring notices (for the positions) have been posted. What other recourse do teachers have than to tell you, formally, as we did, when we feel certain decisions would not be in the best interests of our district, our schools and our kids?"

Krause said Thursday he was not certain if there would be one district-wide selection committee or several. In any case, the screening process will be accomplished by Krause, principals and selected teachers.

Applications for the positions were to be in Krause's hands by Friday, Nov. 7.

The course of action will lead to two new administrative positions — that of teaching vice-principal at Pleasanton and at Harvest Park. Vice principals at the two schools will be redesignated "assistant principal."

Krause said those applying for the job would, in effect, be in competition with the present TVP's at the schools.

The new and/or carryover TVP's would take over duties on or before Dec. 1.

Eveleth had said in the letter to Dutchover that a survey showed 115 teachers opposed to the position and 56 in favor.

Who killed JFK topic of lecture

PLEASANTON — "Who Killed JFK?"

The Assassination Information Bureau, headquartered nationally in Cambridge, Mass., will present an illustrated lecture on the volatile subject Wednesday, Nov. 19 at the Amador Valley High School auditorium at 8 p.m.

Jeff Cohen, of the bureau's west coast office, will present the program as part of the high school's Sociology Speakers Bureau. The program is being organized by Robert Holland, sociology teacher on the Amador staff. The public is invited. Admission is $3.

According to the bureau, the program will provide rare photographic evidence of what it alleges was a "conspiracy that killed John Kennedy."

The bureau release on the program to be seen here adds, "Much of the material was never seen by the Warren Commission. The slides demonstrate clearly that more bullets were fired at the motorcade than Oswald could have managed with his bolt action rifle in the limited six seconds that the shooting lasted for."

Cohen has spent two years investigating political assassinations and has reportedly exchanged data with Jim Garrison, the New Orleans district attorney, who attempted to prosecute the JFK case.

Sunol rancher buys top steer

Sunol rancher Carl Zwissig paid $3 a pound for the top steer in the Cow Palace's 31st Grand National Livestock Exposition which ended Monday.

The black Angus named "Omega" was owned by 13-year-old Douglas Scott of Hazleton, Idaho. The animal weighed in at 1,184 pounds, making for a sale price of $3,552.

'Unique Boutique'

Just tryin' it out — Kristin Brodie and Steven Bowen of Livermore are admiring toys that will be awarded for door prizes Saturday, Nov. 15, at the Smith Elementary School's "Unique Boutique." Other toys, plus tote painting, dried flower arrangements, home sewn, knitted and crocheted items, macrame, plants, ceramics, jewelry, leatherwork and redwood-burl items will fill your Christmas gift list with new answers to old stumbers. The boutique will be held from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. at Smith School, 391 Ontario Drive (off El Caminito), Livermore.

Ruth says tests may be monster

"On the basis of standardized tests that many educators consider monstrosities, students are being labeled and placed, teachers are being evaluated and educational programs are being funded or eliminated."

So contends Leo P. Ruth, a supervisor of teacher education and lecturer in the School of Education at the University of California at Berkeley.

Ruth, who is also a member of a task force on measurement and evaluation set up by the National Council of Teachers of English, thinks that "what teachers don't know about standardized tests can hurt them — and their students."

To explore the issues involved in the use of standardized tests, the limitations of these tests, and the potential of alternative approaches that take a broader view of students' academic performance, Ruth has organized a two-weekend credit course to be held Nov. 14-16 and 22-23 at the UC campus in Berkeley under the auspices of UC's Education Extension.

The first weekend will cover such topics as the "IQ myth" and new methods of assessing intelligence, biased and discriminatory uses of tests, the hidden injuries of testing, the new California achievement tests and the new high school equivalency examination.

Registration fees, including course materials, are $75 for persons who wish to earn three quarter-system units of academic credit and $50 for non-credit enrollees.

Further details may be obtained from Education Extension, University of California, 2223 Fulton St., Berkeley, 642-1171.

Assertive training to bdgin

"Assertiveness Training PLUS," a communications program for parents of school-age children, begins next week.

The training will focus on increasing self-esteem, learning effective ways of dealing with conflict, and communicating clearly.

Parents of school-age children in Dublin, Livermore, or Pleasanton may attend any of the sessions in any location.

Sessions are:
• Mondays, Nov. 10 - Dec. 8, 9 - 11 a.m. at Shannon Park Community Center, Dublin. Facilitator: Judi Barbarosh.

• Tuesdays, Nov. 11 - Dec. 9, 1 - 3 p.m. at Shannon Park Community Center. Facilitator: Judy Matheson.

• Thursdays, Nov. 13 - Dec. 18 except Thanksgiving 9:30 - 11:30 a.m. at Livermore Area Park and Recreation District building, 71 Trevarno Rd., Room 205. Facilitator: Lucille Musso.

• Wednesdays, Nov. 19 - Dec. 17, 7:30 - 9:30 p.m. at Century House, 2401 Santa Rita Rd., Pleasanton. Facilitator: Lucille Musso.

Shares for a Chair

Mary Gourgon has been selected as chairman for Ct. St. Raymond No. 2057 of the Catholic Daughters of America's drive in selling Shares for a Chair of Catholic Education at the Catholic University in Washington D.C. The shares sell for $1 each and will give the purchaser a part in the preservation of the Catholic heritage in the history of the United States. It is part of a national Bicentennial effort of the Catholic Daughters. For your Share in the Chair, mail checks made out to Catholic Daughters of America in care of Mary Gourgon, 792 Concord, Pleasanton 94566, or call 462-1199 or 828-2229 for more information.

Lutheran Church of Resurrection

The Ladies Circles of the Lutheran Church of the Resurrection, Dublin, will hold the following meetings: Rebecca will meet 9:30 a.m. Tuesday, November 11, at the church. Child care will be available.

Bethany Baptist

Pastor Hubert Garland will bring the morning message at the Bethany Baptist Church starting at 11 a.m. The message is entitled "The Compassion and Controversy." Scripture references are John 4:43-5:11.

The evening service starts at 6:30 p.m. Pastor Garland will be speaking from the book of Ephesians, verses 14-21 of Chapter 3. "Paul's Second Prayer" is the title of the sermon.

Sunday School is at 9:45 a.m. with classes for all ages. Wednesday evening prayer meeting is at 7 p.m. with Bible study following at 7:30. Nursery is provided at all services at Bethany.

St. Philip's Lutheran

Today's worship services at St. Philip Lutheran Church are scheduled at 8:30 and 11 a.m. with Holy Communion at the latter.

Adult Bible study is conducted at 10 a.m. Thursdays at the parish hall. The group is currently studying the Book of Exodus. St. Philip has started a Christian Education program for the mentally handicapped which convenes Thursdays from 4 to 5:30 p.m. The program is open to all regardless of race, or creed. For more information call 828-2117, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

The mid-week school of religion convenes Thursdays from 4 to 5:30 p.m. grade schoolers, with pre-school classes Tuesdays from 9:45 to 11:15 a.m.

First Presbyterian

The Rev. William Beck will address the congregation of the First Presbyterian Church of Livermore on the Heifer Project which provides impoverished areas of the world with livestock and the technology to make it productive at today's 10:30 a.m. service.

Dudley Cantua will assist the minister as lay leader, with Peggy Burdick giving the children's sermon. Adult education and school classes continue to meet at 9:30 a.m.

Lynnewood Methodist

Following the 10:40 a.m. worship service today, the congregation and Sunday school of Lynnewood United Methodist Church will visit the Golden Eagle Ranch of Walter Johnson to view the fine Hereford heifer to be donated to the Indians in a project to instruct them in modern livestock raising.

The Council on Ministries meets Monday, Nov. 10 at 7:30 p.m. The Sunday school staff convenes Wednesday, Nov. 12 to plan the Christmas program.

Pairs and Spares gathers Nov. 15 at the home of Jack and Carol Edney for a Hard Times costume party.

St. Bartholomew's

Sunday, Nov. 9, is Stewardship Sunday and it is started off with the end of the 24 hour prayer vigil at the 8 a.m. Communion Service. The Christian Education Program for all ages is at 9 a.m. and the service of Holy Eucharist is at 10. St. Bartholomew's is responsible for the Chapel Service at the V.A. Hospital at 2:30 p.m. Bible Study at 6 p.m. winds up the day.

Divine Science

Divine Science Ministry is planning a Nov. 16 program combining slides of a canoe trip down the Yukon River with a talk on the "Miracles of the Yukon." Cecil and Russell Lake of Fresno will make the presentation.

Cecil is an ordained Unity minister and is past president of the Northern California Unity Ministers Association.

Russell has retired from a career in advertising and is currently a writer.

The couple speaks at the 11 a.m. service at the Franklin Savings and Loan Association community room, Main Street. For more information call 462-2648.

Seventh Day Adventist

During 112 years Seventh-Day Adventists have been donating more than $660 million to their world mission field, according to Robert Becker, Pastor of the Livermore Seventh-Day Adventist Church. During the last 20 years $17 million of that has been given in the annual Week of Sacrifice.

It's difficult any time to go without a major share of your weekly income. Yet, for Adventists, Nov. 8 is designated for a special offering to climax a week of special prayer and Bible study. On this date in Livermore, many Adventists will sacrifice in order to give a week's salary for the betterment of mankind and the extension of the Good News found in the Bible.

Valley Christian

Services today at 9:30 and 10:50 a.m. continue the series of messages on "Stewardship," with a sign language interpretation at the 9:30 a.m. service. All services are held at the Little Theater of Dublin High School.

The Rev. Ward Tanneberg will discuss "When God Went Shopping for a Church" at the 6 p.m. service.

For more information on youth and adult Bible classes call 828-4549.

Evangelical Free Church

The 11 a.m. service today will treat "Principles of Faith, with Sunday school at 9:30 a.m., youth groups at 5:45 p.m. and a potluck fellowship dinner at 5:30.

The Men's Fellowship will join members of the Livermore First Baptist at South L Street and College Avenue at 7 p.m. A mid-week service is scheduled Wednesday, Nov. 12 at 7:30 p.m. at Pleasanton Gardens. The choir practices at 7:30 p.m.

Lutheran

Members of the Lutheran Church of the Resurrection are invited to attend the Mt. Diablo Conference convention at the Holy Cross Lutheran Church in Moraga Sunday, Nov. 16.

Sessions from 3 to 8 p.m., including dinner, feature the Rev. Otto Bremer, campus pastor at the University of California at Santa Barbara. Dinner reservations at $2 may be made through the church office at 828-1580 by Nov. 10.

St. Claire Episcopal

The annual stewardship dinner for St. Claire's Episcopal Church in Pleasanton is slated tonight at 6:30 p.m. at the Highland Oaks Swim Club. For information call 443-1145.

Holy Eucharist family service today at 10 a.m. and Communion from the Book of Common Prayer at 8 a.m. with the Rev. William Smith celebrating.

Holy Cross Lutheran

"Stewardship Is Consecration" is the theme of the message at the Sunday morning duplicate Family Worship Services at Holy Cross Lutheran Church, Livermore. It will be a Bible study of John 17 dealing with the accountability of Jesus to God, the Father. As there will be congregational participation, each worshiper is requested to bring a Bible.

Following each service there will be brief congregational meeting to elect deacons for 1976-78.

Valley Community

A new series of messages from the Old Testament, "Man on His Own," begins today at the 10 a.m. service. Preparation for the series may be made by reading Chapters 4-11 from the Book of Genesis.

The Valley Community Church gathers at Amador Valley High School in the multi-purpose room. Junior church services are scheduled at 10:30 and Bible classes for all ages at 11 a.m.

Acid-colored plastic, shiny natural wood, decorative fiberglass are used for skateboard bodies.

by
PETER GRIFFITH

SKATEBOARDMANIA!

Here they come again, whizzing along on those impossible little slips of wood with the butterscotch wheels. Somebody's trying a nose ride. He edges to the front of the board, the tail goes up and — oops. Crash! Skateboard mania has crept into the Bay Area from Los Angeles. Even kindergartners want their $4.95 blue plastic "super surfers," while their teen-aged brothers and sisters are lusting after models where a single yellow, translucent urethane wheel costs that much. It's true, Santa: Skateboards can cost as much as $70!

But a mere $32.95 gets you a Hang Ten model, supple fiberglass with a red, yellow and blue art deco design and stable, skidproof "Big Dog" wheels. It's the wheels and "trucks" — the assembly that holds the wheels — that make top-quality skateboards so expensive. Each "Big Dog" wheel costs $4.50, each "truck" $6.50. — That's $31 worth of hardware. Wood boards can be cheaper — although there's an inlaid wood board, gorgeous but not flexible, put out by Hang Ten for $33. It's got to be flexible if you want to do tricks — like 360-degree turns on one foot, hopping onto and off curbs, wheelies, handstands and getting down low enough to scrape your backside on the ground. "You think skateboards are popular now," says Ben Smith of Smith's Bicycles, Pleasanton. "I started by carrying three skateboard models. Now we have 25 and I'm low. "Right after Christmas, that's when you'll begin to see a lot more skateboards. The kids'll get them for gifts. "And by next summer — just wait!" — by Pat Kennedy

The Devil and Mr. Hawkins

Mike Zampa

In 11 years with the Oakland Raiders Wayne Hawkins learned almost everything about dogged opposition. He rammed heads with Ernie Ladd, Tom Sestak and Charlie Drueger, and that is the bottom line when it comes to the competitive spirit in America.

Or at least it seemed that way until Hawkins retired from the Raiders in 1971. Then Wayne drifted into real estate, since to learn that they don't have the monopoly on tenacity in the National Football League.

Hawkins, an all-AFL offensive guard at Oakland in 1966, is one of the principals in the proposed development of Blackhawk Ranch.

He and his partners are embroiled in a philosophical and legal battle with Danville residents and environmentalists over the 5,000-acre paradise in the shadows of Mt. Diablo. Compared to this, Oakland's Super Bowl loss to Green Bay in January of 1968 must have seemed like a minor skirmish. Building at Blackhawk would have commenced last summer, Hawkins says, had not the combined forces of opposition tied up the developers in court. Now it will be at least another year before heavy equipment rumbles into the region, he predicts. It will be never if the Sierra Club and the Friends of Mt. Diablo have their way.

"We're going to develop it," says Hawkins, who never backed down to a football opponent either. "It's just a matter of time."

The Blackhawk game plan calls for 2,000 houses, and another 2,000 condominiums to be raised on 20 per cent of the ranch property. These are Hawkins' figures. The other 80 per cent, or thereabouts, is to be left untouched.

The club's main chapter wasn't swayed by this fit of generosity, however, and sued to halt construction. The environmentalists fear the developers will impinge on the majestic Devil Mountain itself.

Hawkins, on the other hand, says much of the opposition is from nearby homeowners who don't want any more neighbors in their rustic retreat. "People who moved here don't want anyone else here," he says simply.

Each month of delay is costing Hawkins and his partners. Houses that would have cost $50,000 in the original Blackhawk plan, would sell for $70,000 today. Property taxes and loan interest must be paid while the land lays fallow.

When he was with the Raiders, Wayne never had those kinds of worries. True, he tried the stock market for a year, but there was football to fall back on. That was a simpler age when the opposition all wore red and answered to names like Buck Buchanan. As for law suits, well that was left to Joe Kapp and John Brodie and a couple of other high priced passers who walked the tight rope between the AFL and NFL.

Hawkins says, however, that he has no desire to return to those idyllic days gone by, when hassles were settled on the field.

"I went through it and I enjoyed it very much," he says of pro football. "And I'm proud of what I accomplished. But now I want to accomplish something else."

"It's a developer's dream to take and design 5,000 acres the way it should be done," Hawkins says. "We've tried to do everything we could. We've been sensitive to the environment, we've realigned roads to save trees. It only makes sense to do everything you can to build up the environment."

Hawkins says that Blackhawk will creep no closer to Mt. Diablo than some existing developments, Diablo Country Club for one. Homes will be tucked down in the valley, he says, and the ridgelines will remain natural. Hawkins says he and his associates have carried their concepts to at least 50 home owners' and civic groups, seeking approval and suggestions for Blackhawk.

They failed with two, however. The Sierra Club and Friends of Mt. Diablo insist that the pastoral foothills should be left alone. Self-interest may be the motivation for neighbors who are rankled by the proposed development. But there is also a fear of unscrupulous developers who build up property by raping it first. They do exist, Hawkins says. He adds, however, that they are bad businessmen.

Real estate people may not all be naturalists, but they realize the hard cash value of attractive land. So even if it is for selfish purposes, it is good business to pave a road around a stand of oaks, instead of through it.

"I could have played two more years if I had wanted to go to Buffalo or some place like that. But I had something else in mind," he says. "When I got out I knew I'd have to do something else, and I spent a year looking. Then I really got excited about this project."

Since then the feeling has spilled over both sides of the mountain. In one way or another, everyone is excited.

Mats cinch title tie, 42-7

From the moment Steve Jaeger got his hands on the opening kickoff and though the Amador defenders for a 90-yard touchdown the fans at Friday night's Granada-Dongame at the Amador field knew the Matadors had come to play for their first football championship.

When the final gun sounded the Amador players knew it also. Granada had unleashed its awesome running attack to take a resounding 42-7 victory and cinch a tie for the East Bay Athletic League crown. If the Matadors beat or tie Livermore next week they are the league champions and will meet Mission San Jose in the first round of the North Coast Section 4-A division playoffs.

"What makes our victory so sweet is the fact this is the first time we have beaten Amador in 11 years of varsity football," said head Granada coach Don Couch. "The team played the whole game together."

After holding Amador on its first series, Granada went to work again, driving 66 yards in 14 plays, mostly on the running of Jaeger and Vance Rushing. Rushing, who finished the game with 137 yards in 12 carries, supplied the drives' big gainer with a 16-yard dash from his 35.

Jaeger bulled over for his second of three scores from the four. Rich Malia kicked yards in six plays. The big play came when quarterback John Sevo threw a 47-yard bomb to halfback Mike Goodison to put the ball on the Granada three-yard line. Fullback Ron Worley dove to the one and scored on the next play.

From then on it was all Granada. The Matadors added their third touchdown in the second quarter when Rushing dashed 40 yards around end with 2:37 left in the period. Malia kicked the conversion and the score was 21-7 at the intermission.

Granada started where it left us on its first series in the second half. The Matadors drove 45 yards for a score after holding the Dons deep in their own territory and forcing them to punt.

Quarterback John Walden ran 12 yards on a keeper and Rushing blasted 32 yards to the Amador 11. From there the Matadors scored in two plays with Rushing smashing over from the five.

Walden got into the scoring action for the Matadors when he ran 12 yards around end early in the fourth quarter. His score culminated a 63-yard drive in seven plays. Walden set up his score with a 29-yard toss to flanker Brian McSharr. The Matadors were aided by a 15-yard penalty against Amador.

Rushing ended the game's scoring with a four-yard run with 5:23 left in the contest. His score culminated a 67-yard drive in eight plays. Rushing contributed 34-yard run and Jaeger a 20-yard sprint during the final Granada drive.

A tired but happy Rushing said after the game that "our offensive line did a great job opening holes for us. Give a lot of credit to Steve (Jaeger) he did a great job." The junior running back added "We've been thinking a lot about Mission San Jose. They would be tough since they are a bigger school than us."

Granada completely dominated the statistics. The Mats rolled up 310 yards total offense to 207 for the Dons. Amador could make just 62 yards on the ground and 145 in the air. Most of Amador's passing yardage came in the latter stages of the contest when the game was no longer in doubt.

Defensive back Steve Robison sparked the Mat defense with two key interceptions, one which set up a touchdown. He also deflected several Don passes.

Worley led the Amador rushers with 41 yards in six carries. Goodison was held to nine yards in five carries.

If Livermore upsets Granada next week and Amador wins, the EBAL's berth in the playoffs will be up in the air. According to Couch, the league coaches would probably decide on the playoff team. After Granada's performance against Amador, however, the Matadors look like a good bet to represent the league in the playoffs.

Grizzlies nip Mesa Verde

There was no rendition of "The Star Spangled Banner" before yesterday afternoon's California High School — Mesa Verde football game at San Ramon High School.

It was just as well. A more appropriate tune for the occasion would have been the Staple Singers' "Do It Again" as the Grizzlies set a team point record in beating the Mavericks for the second time this season, 20-12.

The game was by far Cal's best effort of the dismal (2-7) season, as they came from behind twice to win, though the Mavericks were almost as close at the gun as in the Grizzlies' 13-8 early-season win in Citrus Heights.

Mesa's first pass of the game caught Cal off guard and the play went for a touchdown.

Quarterback Jeff Lewandowski lofted a high pass to a waiting Walt Yocum who went in for the 43-yard score ahead of surprised Grizzly defender Brett Cary with 11:38 left in the half.

The PAT run failed, though, giving Cal a chance to go ahead less than a minute later.

On the second play after Mesa's kick-off, Tom Woodmansee hit Chuck Cary for a 58-yard crossing pattern touchdown on a to the left Roger Hurlow's kick put Cal up 7-6 with 10:53 left in period two.

But, Mesa running back Glen Allen led the Mavs back into the lead with 5:07 showing. Allen, who picked up 42 yards on the 8-play, 59-yard drive, scored the TD on an off tackle play from three yards out.

The busy first half deprived the Grizzlies of their goal for the day.

"We wanted a shut out," said Cal coach Dick Nodlin.

ski. "We went to a six-man line on defense after halftime and played them power-on-power."

The rearranged Grizzly defense blanked the Mavs in the second half, paving the way for Cal's third quarter rally.

The Grizzlies regained the lead with 10:05 left in the quarter on a one-yard sneak by Woodmansee, but the opportunity was set up by two prior plays.

Allen, who led the game with 110 yards rushing, fumbled at his own 25 and Cal's Joe Lord recovered. After an incomplete pass, Woodmansee hit Hurlow for a 24-yard gain to the one, before keeping for the TD.

California iced the win when Chris Miller, who saw limited action due to a concussion suffered in last week's loss to Foothill, took his only carry of the game in for a 34-yard touchdown, a draw play down the left sideline.

The Grizzlies went almost exclusively to the outside, especially on passing plays; an adjustment from the last game with Mesa.

"Last time we did well passing over the middle, so they had it pretty well closed off today," Nodlin said. The Cal coach praised both Cary brothers (who each intercepted a pass) and Jim Lucas for their defensive play.

While Cal clearly had the game in hand in the second half, the outcome might have been considerably different had not the clock run out on Mesa in the first half.

Holding the ball for the final 11 plays of the second quarter, the Mavs marched 56 yards to the Cal six before the half expired on first and goal.

Tyler Laurie gained 79 yards rushing for Cal while Yocum added 60 for MV. Woodmansee passed 14 times for nine completions and 91 yards while Lewandowski hit on three of 12 for 74 yards.

Saturday, the Grizzlies close out the season with an 11 a.m. game at Menlo.

Glad booters near crown

Chabot College can cinch the Golden Gate Conference championship with a win or tie Tuesday when it hosts Diablo Valley at 2:30.

The Gladiators drew closer to the league crown with an exciting 1-0 victory over Foothill in Los Altos Friday afternoon.

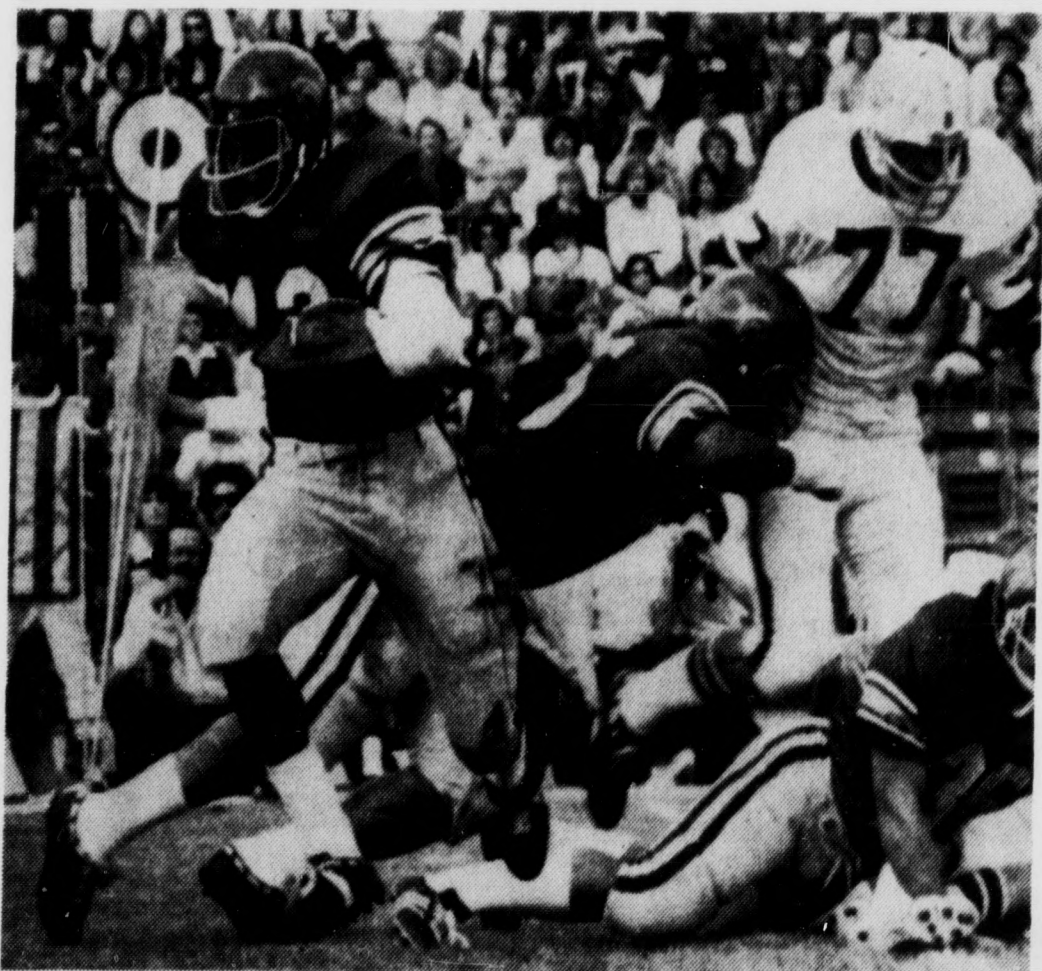

Eric Rudney scored the Chabot goal on a penalty kick with 17 minutes left in the match.

Glad mentor John Shaw praised the Chabot effort as "one of our better matches on the road."

Shaw said Foothill is tough to beat at home. He also praised the work of goalie Steve Hector. Hector had 15 saves and kept the Foothill offense constantly off balance.

Other Chabot players who performed well were fullback Derick Hoxie, halfback Bob Susic, Carlos Escalante and captain Kelly Clark, who played despite a bout with the flu.

Chabot's overall record is 17-3-1 and its league mark is 9-2. West Valley is second with a 8-3 mark and City College of San Francisco is third with a 6-4 record. The conference winner and possibly the second-place team will compete in the Northern California playoffs. The state playoffs will follow the Northern California finals.

Bell rambles

USC's Ricky Bell goes for yardage in yesterday's game with Stanford in Los Angeles. Stanford won the game 13-10 on a last minute field goal by Mike Langford. Stanford remains in the Rose Bowl race while USC is all but eliminated.

Roth leads California

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — University of California quarterback Joe Roth, calm even when passing from his own end zone, threw four touchdown passes and accumulated a record 380 yards Saturday as the Bears beat Washington 27-24 to remain ahead in the Pacific-8.

Despite another high-powered offensive display by 18th-ranked Cal, it took a late defensive stand by the Bears to pull out a victory in the regionally televised football game. Washington linebacker Dan Lloyd intercepted a pass and ran 27 yards to the California 31 yard line, but the Bears stopped the Huskies at the 24 with three minutes left in the game.

Roth's fourth touchdown pass, a three-yard toss to Chuck Muncie, gave Cal a 27-17 lead early in the final period but the Huskies drove 80 yards and scored on a pass from Chris Rowland to Greg Martin with seven minutes left.

Roth hit Wesley Walker in the end zone on an 11-yard first quarter pass and later threw touchdown passes of 23 and 22 yards to Steve Rivera, who had 10 receptions for 183 yards in the game.

The Cal quarterback broke a school one-game yardage record set two years ago by All-American Steve Bartkowski. The Bears' offense totaled 522 yards in the victory which made their conference record 5-1.

Washington fell to 3-2 in the Pac-8 and was eliminated from Rose Bowl contention.

The Huskies, behind 7-0 after one period, took a 10-7 lead on an 18-yard field goal by Steve Robbins and a one-yard touchdown run by Rowland in the second quarter. The touchdown came after Lloyd recovered a fumble at the Cal 24.

The Bears went ahead to stay on Roth's first touchdown pass to Rivera, a play which ended a 65-yard drive.

Cal opened the second half scoring with a 90-yard drive. Roth recovered a fumble, caused by a bad handoff to Muncie, at the Bears' three, and then got the offense going as he threw from the end zone to Rivera for 12 yards. On third down, a pass play to fullback Tom Newton gained 63 yards.

Muncie sprained an ankle early in the game and missed 21 minutes of action but still ran for 87 yards to make his season total 1,150, a school record.

Fullback Robin Earl of Washington gained 130 yards rushing, but the Huskies' total offensive yardage was just 213.

Roth completed 24 of 36 passes and allowed just the one interception, which almost cost Cal the game.

The Bears play non-conference Air Force next Saturday, then end the season against Stanford, which is tied with UCLA for second in the conference with a 4-1 record.

Boulware's running throttles MV

For awhile the Monte Vista High School football team undoubtedly took thoughts of avenging last season's 72-0 final game rout into Friday night's game with the Gaels, they came out with their string of EBAL defeats' unblemished after a 20-0 loss.

Again, a Gael running back used MV as a springboard to 1000-yard season.

Jim Boulware's 235-yard performance Friday night lifted him into quadruple figures, the second Dublin back in two years to accomplish the feat.

Boulware, an hirsute 172-lb junior, needed just 12 carries to roll up the yardage for his second straight 200-plus week as he included runs of 30, 71 and 87 yards.

Dublin on its first series of downs swept up field to score game primarily on rushes by Boulware, Chuck Ganguss and quarterback Sean Mays. Boulware went in from four yards out to culminate the 65-yard, 10-play drive with 7:25 to go in the quarter.

Mays, who ran nine times for 48 yards and Ganguss, a junior transfer from Antioch who carried 10 times for 42 yards, complemented the explosive Boulware well.

The next scoring came on the first Gael possession of the second half.

Boulware dashed 87 yards down the left sideline, with help from a Mike Vigil block, only to be run out at the MV2 by Dave Lair.

One five-yard penalty later, Mays threw straight ahead to split end Doug Ault for a seven-yard scoring pass, the senior receiver's first such reception. Mays kicked his second extra point to put Dublin up 14-0 with 4:04 to play in the third quarter.

Thanks to yet another Boulware explosion, the Gaels added a third touchdown. With just 15 seconds left, the 6-0 fullback emerged from a gang of tacklers along the right sidelines and ran 71 yards for the final score.

The most spectacular play of the contest led to no scoring. It was simply a beautiful catch by Dublin end Harvey Trump early in the second quarter.

Spinning back towards a May pass that he expected to be on his left, Trump balanced the ball for a moment, then cradling it in his right arm, pirouetted to the inside and ran for a 39-yard gain.

But, two plays later, a penalty brought back a near-TD run by Ganguss to nullify the threat.

Monte Vista made its loudest noise just before the stifled Dublin drive.

Working their way downfield on the strength of Greg Goodman to Steve Jones passes, MV had first and goal at the five but, on fourth down, the Gaels' Larry Castillo and Bob Jarrell combined to break up a 'Stang pass and preserve the shut-out.

Bill Fowler led Monte Vista in rushing with 70 yards on 11 carries while Goodman completed nine of 21 for 99 yards passing. Mays connected on three of four for 60 Dublin yards.

Jones caught five passes for 97 yards while Ault grabbed two for 21 yards to pace the Gaels.

Next week Dublin (2-2) travels to Amador Valley while Monte Vista (0-4) faces San Ramon. — Dave Weber

Is Isabel Avenue the connection?

On Monday the Livermore city council is prepared to take the first big step in what promises to be revitalization of the "Isabel Avenue extension" as the valley's answer to a badly-needed north-south link connecting Stanley Boulevard and Interstate 580. That is a project worth pursuing, but we would caution against any overestimate as to what such a route might accomplish.

Livermore's historic effort to gain first the state's, and later the county's interest in providing a bypass around the western flank of the city has not been doing too well. The State of California has made it known that there is no money to rebuild the Vallecitos Road portion of Highway 84, regardless of the apparent need for a route connecting Niles Canyon to I-580. Alameda County appeared not too interested in building just the northern end of that system, from Stanley to the freeway.

But then The Times started to remind the county and the state and the gravel interests that they had considerable obligation to pursue development of the "El Charro Road connection" from Stanley to that new interchange at I-580. All of a sudden, the county bounces forth with the statement that "El Charro Road is neither feasible nor fundable, but Isabel Avenue might be a better answer"

Development of even one link in the long expanse of land and pits that divides the cities of Livermore and Pleasanton would be a big help. But the county must not be allowed to get off this gravel truck hook by now shifting the public's focus to just a portion of Isabel Avenue.

Pleasanton got caught in that same act some five years ago, when the city council argued that Stanley to Vallecitos to San Jose was a preferable truck route than using that city's First Street access to I-680. But the gravel industry came back with studies and tests and charts "proving" that Vallecitos could never be an acceptable truck route to those Santa Clara County markets.

We thought we'd mention all that now, to avoid any 1976 surprises when Livermore and the county go all through these preliminary rounds on the Isabel extension, only to have a subsequent county study reveal that "there is no evidence that Isabel Avenue would drain off a significant portion of the truck traffic, and therefore that route is neither feasible nor fundable."

We've been that route before.

The week in retrospect

The fair parade

A cherished tradition in the life and times of this valley could be permanently erased Tuesday night.

The dropping of the Alameda County Fair parade is not so much a matter of finances as it is that old bugaboo communications.

There are no heroes or villains in this piece. Simply a probing of what led up to the County Fair Board's entertainment committee recommendation (to the parent board) to discontinue the almost-40 year old fair parade.

It is incredibly ironic that the parade, part of a great American tradition of parades, faces extinction in 1976, the year of this country's 200th birthday.

To be honest, though, the parade has been under a financial-aphathy cloud in recent years, reflecting the economy and changes in society.

But does it necessarily follow that the parade is to be sacrificed? If it's the fair parade in '76, what might be next?

One of the reasons hastening the recommendation was the situation the Pleasanton chamber found itself in. Namely, the necessity to tighten the belt financially.

The chamber, as well as the City of Pleasanton, had provided a portion of financial aid for years. The city's involvement also included personnel.

Most recently, each had agreements with the Fair Association to provide up to $300 each for the fair parade.

This string was snapped last June when the chamber did not participate financially.

Reference to the chamber's part was made in passing in a letter sent by Ben Fernandez, president of the chamber, to Tom Kitayama, president of the Fair Association Board, on July 22.

In the ninth paragraph of the letter, following a description of "shabby treatment" at the Pleasanton Day barbecue, Hernandez adds, "Each year our Chamber of Commerce is requested to provide financial support to the Alameda County Fair Parade. It is the feeling of our Board of Directors and many of our members that the fair parade does not really do that much business in our town. However, we have never failed to make our contribution to the parade. We feel that some reciprocity is in order."

In this writer's view, then, Fernandez was doing some pure and simple horse-trading.

Yet, Hall finally received notification of the chamber's intentions regarding the financial contribution via a letter sent Sept. 29.

The letter, penned by chamber manager Chan Henderson, stated, "In response to your request for financial support for the 1975 Fair parade, first let me apologize for the delay in getting a reply to your letter."

"This matter was discussed at a number of chamber board meetings with final action put over until late in the summer."

"Due to an extremely tight financial situation, the Board felt it could not financially support the Fair parade this year. As you may know, the Chamber has lost all city support and the County support has been gradually reduced to just a fraction of our former subsidy. We are supportive of the Fair Association and wish we could assist financially in the Fair parade this year, but find ourselves in a position of barely able to meet basic operating expenses."

"Again, we are sorry for the delay on this matter, as we hoped in vain to find a way to meet this request," Henderson concluded.

The two letters, thus, strongly enforce what we noted at the outset—finances and apathy.

But there is still the overriding problem, as we also stated at the beginning. Communications.

There is absolutely no reason why representatives of the groups concerned—city, chamber and fair board—couldn't have sat down in somebody's board room or at one of the local eateries for that matter and thrashed this problem out long ago.

And that goes for other mutual problems, too.

I have heard it suggested that we are losing the personal touch in our relationships.

Must matters such as the fair parade be acted upon by an exchange of letters when the parties concerned are within walking distance of one another?

It is not too late to save the fair parade from extinction.

But, it's going to take a lot of person-to-person talking—preferably involving a group or groups who can take over the financial burden.

C'mon ladies and gentlemen, lets talk about it!

The recommendation will be advanced at Tuesday night's Fair Association Board of Directors meeting in the Fair's administrative offices on Pleasanton Avenue.

round the town

California is green and dollar-golden, and it is also broke.

These two thoughts are stirred by items received in the mail at week's end. I hasten to share this information with my thousands of readers, from Altamont to Queensland. And a sister in London Town.

First the bad news. Courtesy one James Parker of Livermore, who is in residence at East Avenue School in that city, it appears. I would surmise that James is reading those suggestions that "parents buy school supplies for their children to help balance the district's budget."

Perhaps you thought this was little more than another idle threat, like that talk about draining off school athletic funds to underwrite soccer and baseball teams for (ugh) girls! Now it's pencils. But permit James Parker to tell his own story ...

Dear Times Editor
I am from the East Ave. School and I think that teachers should let us have pencil every 2½ weeks. Becomes some kids lose there pencils before the end of the month and if we do we have to buy some at the store or at our school library for 15 cents for 2. Math teachers give us pencil to use for test or we are out of a pencil which I think is great. Because if the kid does not bring pencil it's his fault. Some teacher give pencils if you give her some thing. But my Eng teacher makes us put our name on the Black Board and if you forget or lose that pencil you have to give her a pencil. That all.

James Parker, Livermore

I was beginning to think that California was in sad shape, not even able to buy pencils for promising scholars like James Parker, but then along came the Sunset Travel Guide to Northern California.

It is the latest item off the presses of Lane Publishing Co., the Menlo Park firm which constantly reminds us that we have, along this Pacific Coast, some of the world's better havens for rest and relaxation.

This newest publication is a sort of low-cost edition of the $13 job I shared with you a few months back. That one was loaded with full-color prints, and poetic captions. This later edition has black and white prints, a lot more travel info, and sells for just $2.95. We think Lane Publishing is its own worst competition.

Once again, the Sunset folks give us 157 pages of ideas why we should search out the highlights and the backlights of the northern counties. ... "Monterey's Path of History" ... "Next Time, Try the Skunk" ... "Mendocino's Magnificent Coast." Just reading the chapter titles is enough to send us packing.

This time, however, I must find fault with Sunset for what they FAIL to tell us. Sure the wines of Napa are delightful, and the steelhead of Klamath Country and the Chinese Temple in Oroville. Items on every tourist's list.

But what about the California that is beyond that pretty facade? Where I ask you is the Sunset report on "The Annual Drinkathon at Alturas" ... or how about "Gambling on the QT in Tulelake"? I tell you folks, there is a lot more to Northern California than Sunset wants to tell.

Those of us who have lived in those Siskiyou and Cascade climes can testify to the life beyond. Roaring Camp and Weed and Doris. The town that was fashioned from a Japanese internment camp. The town built and owned by one company, and then could never sell.

Land of the great mule deer. Where Gypsies shoot pheasant with .22 rifles, two days before the season opens. And where crazy men from Los Angeles spend $200 and three days to shoot two limits of duck, then another $60 to pack the whole mess in dry ice for shipment back to the Big Town.

Ah yes, I remember it well. "All roads lead to Jackson," the natives would remind you. And only when you really knew the politics of road building, the investment by a favored few ... in land and saloons and ladies of the day ... could you understand the reasoning behind it all.

"We don't pay much attention to the rules them people in Sacramento think up." That's what the man told me, when first I ventured into Tulelake. Three years of trying to report "all the news that's fit to print, and won't get any of us arrested!" left me with a new sensitivity for people, their mores and their laws.

Had I known then that Lane Publishing Co. was interested in that kind of thing, I could have filed a few choice reports on the land of the Modoc and the Siskiyou. Make great bed time reading. Curl your hair and defrost your ice box, I'll betcha.

If James Parker ever gets a pencil out of that bunch at East Ave. School, I'd send him up there to report the scene He'd tell it like it is.

One man's legacy

At a time when the strength of the family unit is supposed to be losing ground, and the worth of marriage is subject to question, it is refreshing to dwell for a moment on the impact of just one household, within one small suburban community.

The family that Bernard and Margaret Gerton established was not your traditional unit, not by any means. Raising four of their own, the Gertons also found time and love to raise an "adopted" son. They were among the very first to welcome a Foreign Exchange Student into their home, and further boosted that program by sending their daughter as a delightful ambassador to a foreign land.

Those of us who knew them can testify that the Gerton house on St. Mary's Street in Pleasanton was nearly always a place of great activity, of considerable sharing, and of love. And behind it all was the relationship of one man and one woman, and their ability to give so very much to others.

In trying to say something meaningful about the man, we can do no more than think of the family. Bernie Gerton's legacy is one that will live long after his earthly span is done. There is not one of us who could ask for more.

Aiding career

Editor, The Times:

On behalf of the students and myself, may I express our appreciation for the time and effort that (Pat Kennedy) contributed in making our Speakers Program so pleasant and informative. The meeting was valuable for students, and the information gained should prove helpful.

The objective of our total Career Education Program is to help students think about and plan for their futures in the world of work, and our Speakers Program is one of the services which we offer.

Thank you again for the time that you spent in the preparation and presentation of your topic, and we sincerely hope that you will participate again next year.

Helping CROP

Editor, The Times:

We would like to say "thank you" to all who participated in the CROP fund-raising project on Oct. 18 & 19.

CROP is the Community Hunger Appeal of Church World Service. 120 individuals worked at Buenas Vidas Ranch harvesting walnuts and other work there. 5 pick-up loads of walnuts were hulled to yield 1500 lbs of nuts. These nuts may be purchased at 4 lbs. per $1 through the Del Oro 4-H Club by contacting Vera Pierce 447-4259 at 754 El Caminito. Proceeds from the sale of these nuts will go to Buenas Vidas Youth Ranch.

CROP workers are asked to collect their pledges and turn in the money and envelope at Home Savings Office, Third and K St. in Livermore by Nov. 15 if possible.

Thanks again to all who supported this project.

Having a Ball

Editor, The Times:

Hear Ye! Hear Ye!
Livermore's official Bicentennial Costume Ball will be held Nov. 15 at the Livermore Veteran's Auditorium. The Valley's own Starliners Orchestra will provide great listening and dancing music for an evening of "big band" entertainment.

Guests already include George Washington, Benjamin Franklin and Betsy Ross, with representatives of our California Spanish heritage and Western Pioneer days making appearances, also.

Tickets are available at $5 for singles and $10 per couple on a first come, first served basis, and the fun begins at 9 p.m. Hors d'oeuvres will be provided, with drinks available for purchase for less than $1.

Highlight of the evening will be the grand march for selection of the outstanding male and female costumes by a distinguished panel of judges.

Come in costume or come as yourself — Vintage 1976. Join the fun with a group of your friends and be a part of our local Bicentennial celebration!

For ticket information contact Hugh Ellsaesser at 447-3834, Priscilla Payne at 447-6362 or Richard Wright at 443-0510.

Editor, The Times:

Open Letter to Walt Hecox:

Did I really give you the impression that I believe the major issue in the Supervisory race is that Murphy does not get out enough "kissing babies"? I am sure that your assessment that he can "kiss babies with the best of them if he so desired" is correct.

What I'm saying, Walt, is a lot more than that. I'm talking about the kind of constituent contact that Congressman Stark and Assemblyman Mori have. Both of them are required to be constantly away from their district, in Washington and in Sacramento. They are nevertheless to be seen frequently at public meetings in their district, listening to concerns about transportation, health, employment, needs of the elderly, and many other areas that government today finds itself into.

Where, however, is Murphy? They seek him here, they seek him there. The voters seek him everywhere. Is he in heaven, is he in hell? Than dammed, elusive off-ci-at?

Arroyo Mocho School

Editor, The Times:

I've been so busy with "The College Planning Guide" that I haven't kept up with the reasons behind phasing out Arroyo Mocho School. In fact, friends tell me that they have no insight into the situation themselves. However, the idea seems ridiculous!

I wonder about the inconsistency of having a mini-school like Arroyo Seco with one full time principal for three grades (at about $20,000 a year) with everybody happy to phase out a large mini school such as Mocho with a full time principal. I, for one, like the idea of a small neighborhood school and Arroyo Seco with the luxury of having one principal for three grades seems to be by state tests etc. be doing just fine.

I'd like to also put in a pitch for a teaching principal. That would be just fine for Arroyo Seco and Arroyo Mocho schools. When Jack Cavitt was principal teacher at Green School they consistently had top reading scores. When he left, they went to the low of the average. There just isn't enough work to warrant a principal for three grades at Seco. And for those of you who see by the list of teachers passed out at the beginning of the year, that Mr. Alderdice (principal at Seco) is listed as assistant principal at Almond and Seco, you had better not believe that hogwash. That's just for effect. It's just to make things look good on paper. I know the difference, I live next door!

I'm not trying to undermine Seco-it's a great little school and Alderdice seems to be doing a good job, I'm just trying to give reasons for preserving what remains of Mocho.

Sound and Fury

Walt Hecox

Pat Brosnan, the Livermore tonsorial laddie who does an admirable job of spelling his own name, was on the horn Thursday singing the Halls of Montezuma.

Well, not quite. But something like that.

"Do you know Monday is the 200th anniversary of the United States Marine Corps?" he inquired in his usual quiet and restrained manner.

"That I do, Pat," I replied.

"Well, are you going to DO something about it?" he persisted.

"Of course I'm going to do something about it," I replied. "Matter of fact I already have done a little."

"Just checking," he replied. "I can't afford to have you overlooking these little details."

"Glad to hear from you, Pat," I told him. "By the way, next time you're in Livermore and I'm in Pleasanton and we talk, let's use the telephone."

"A good idea," he responded. "Let's try it."

You can bet your sweet post toasts I know Monday is the 200th birthday of the Marine Corps. Matter of fact I celebrated the anniversary a week early at the Chief Petty Officer's Club in Moffet Field where a bunch of the boys who didn't know better, under the leadership of Chuck Muth of Dublin and a few others, celebrated the birthday and the granting of a charter to the Golden Gate Chapter of the Third Marine Division Association with a dinner dance.

A good place to hold a dinner dance by the way if a man can find a way to get in. Wheat squeezings on the rocks are 65 cents. A bargain for a man at any time, even if his daily ration has been reduced to two ounces a day.

We toasted the Halls of Montezuma and the Shores of Tripoli. A lot of other places also. From Hong Kong to Paris Island Puhoi to New Britain and the Pink House in New Caledonia.

My acquaintance with the Marine Corps was an accident, more or less. I tried to join the corps and was turned down because of imperfect vision. Then I joined the Navy and was assigned to the Marines for as long as my service career lasted. A career cut short, by the grace of God, when a Japanese sniper perforated my left leg with a snub nosed bullet from a 25 caliber rifle.

A man learns to appreciate and admire the Marine Corps having been associated with them for a couple of years. They are hard to like, but easy to admire. All guts and no brains I once insisted. Matter of fact they are so overloaded with courage there isn't room for much else.

The Continental Congress authorized the organization of two battalions of Marines Nov. 10, 1775, a rough and tumble collection of men who distinguished themselves at the battles of Trenton, Assunpunk, Morristown and Brandywine.

They made their first Marine Landing on Providence Island in the Bahamas in 1776, where they seized a shipload of British supplies.

They were active laddies through the remaining 200 years of the history of these United States.

When the United States was having seaborne skirmishes with France in 1797 the Marines were there, swabbing down the cannon, repelling borders and generally raising hell in the name of freedom and justice.

They stormed the Barbary pirates stronghold at Derna, Tripoli, sent back word they had landed and the situation was well in hand and thus launched the second part of the first line of the Marine Hymn.

During the War of 1812 a Marine Captain, one John Gamble, captured and commanded a British warship, the only member of the corps ever to be placed in charge of a naval ship.

The Marines helped Andrew Jackson beat the British in the defense of New Orleans in 1815, defeated the Creeks and Seminoles under the leadership of Archibald Henderson at the battle of Hatcher-Lustee in 1837 and raised the American flag over the National Palace at Mexico City in 1848, thus finishing off the first part of the first line of the Marine Hymn.

One way or another the Marines were at work early during the Civil War. They captured one John Brown, a man whose body later earned more fame than he did during his lifetime, and occupied his arsenal.

They landed in China a total of 17 times during the 1880's, each time to defend American interests there, protected the besieged legations in Peking during the Boxer Rebellion and fought at Tientsin in the Peking relief force.

The corps didn't really need a war to see action. They were busy landing in Panama in 1885 to protect American lives and property and to keep the vital Isthmus of Panama open, campaigned in Nicaragua in 1912, 1926 and 1933. They were also busy enforcing the Monroe Doctrine in Haiti and Santo Domingo in the early 1900's.

The German's found out what an American fighting man was all about shortly after June of 1917 when the Marines landed in France and moved in on the Western front of World War I. Once again they were busy, at Soissons, Saint Mihiel, Blanc Mont Ridge and the Meuse-Argonne.

I caught up with them in 1942 during World War II when they distinguished themselves on an island hopping campaign which stretched from Guadalcanal to the Sea of Japan. They served in Korea, Lebanon, the Dominican Republic and Viet Nam. Busy lads for 200 years. Perhaps the busiest fighting men the world has ever known.

What's that? You don't see Puhoi and the Pink House mentioned prominently in Marine Corps annals. Hong Kong or Pearl Harbor? You haven't talked to the right man, lads and lassies.

There was action in all those places, believe me. But this is a family newspaper, folks. We can't tell EVERYTHING here.

For Sunday, Nov. 9, 1975

ARIES (March 21-April 19)
Don't try to dominate center stage in your peer group today. If you do, the notices you get from your friends won't be "raves."

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)
Unfortunately, you won't be sufficiently relaxed today to enjoy some light-hearted pursuits. You need to take time to smell the roses.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)
Keep your counsel today unless it is specifically requested. Otherwise, you could be embarrassed when told to mind your own business.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)
You may feel that the assets of a close associate are partly yours. Avoid this erroneous impression. He may feel otherwise, and so advise you.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)
You and your mate may not see eye-to-eye on things early in the day. It would be extremely unwise to let little disagreements mar your whole weekend.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
You could be a little grumpy about any work you have to do today. There's no problem unless you're working with tools. Be careful!

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23)
Being too generous could be your fault today. Money flows easily through your fingers. You'll mourn for your ruined budget!

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22)
There are enough problems at home without adding those of an outsider to the pile. Avoid creating new dilemmas for the family.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21)
Today, you tend to overlook the doughnut and see only the hole. You indulge in an unusual spell of pessimism.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)
Everyone you meet seems to have his hand out today. You're not obligated to give unless you sincerely feel you should.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19)
You won't have faith in plans unless they are of your making. This is fine, but being too outspoken about it may alienate others.

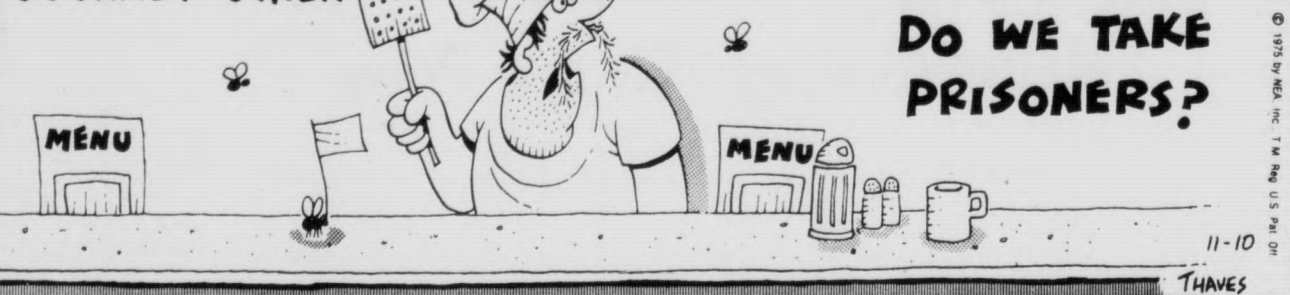

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20)
It may be a little hard for you to crawl out of your shell today. Force yourself to get moving. Later, you'll be glad you did.

Your Birthday

Nov. 9, 1975

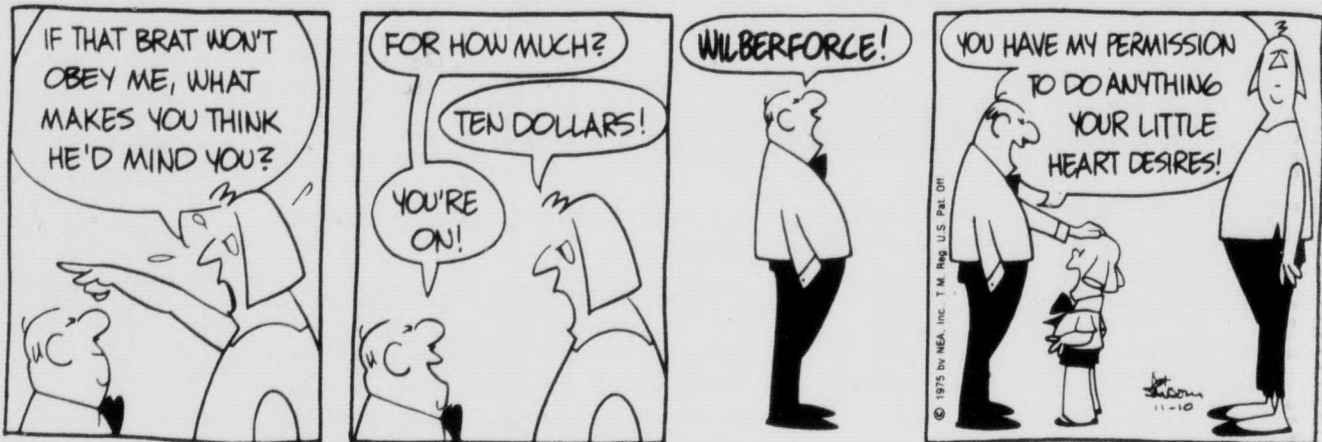

You will form a unique and secretive alliance this coming year. You will be the "front man", but the money and power sources will be hidden from others.

H.C. ELLIOTT, CENTURY 21 LINK UP FOR RE-SALES

Builder H.C. Elliott has announced that Century 21 is now acting as exclusive agent in home re-sales in five areas where Elliott is developing communities. These locations are Vacaville, Fairfield, South Sacramento, Citrus Heights and Pleasanton.

According to Harry C. Elliott III, executive vice president of the Walnut Creek-based construction firm, "An increasingly significant percentage of our customers have a house to sell prior to acquiring a new home from us."

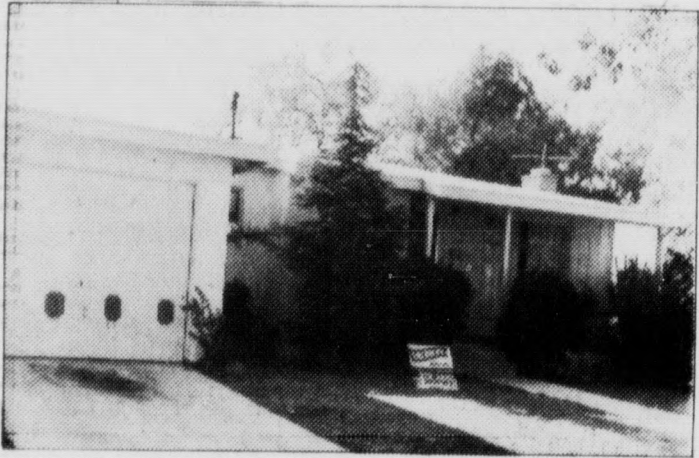

"By utilizing Century 21, a national organization with proven capabilities, we are confident that our home buyers are receiving competent professional service in the re-sale of their existing home," he said.

Elliott pointed out by monitoring the progress or activity on their prior houses, "we can minimize the time span between the decision to purchase and culmination of the sale when a second home is involved."

Initial results of the association with Century 21 "have been extremely gratifying," he added.

Co-ordinating re-sales in the Tri-Valley area will be MARK GERTON CENTURY 21 office located at 163 Neal St., Pleasanton.

Home of the Week

Locate in Livermore near the new shopping center. Compact 3 bedroom home is extremely well built and has a generous redwood covered patio and front yard sprinklers. The home is air conditioned and all carpets and drapes stay. Assume the loan. $32,950. For more details call FAIRWAY REALTORS, 7988 Amador Valley Blvd., Dublin. 829-4422.

Career month

Navy Recruiter Jim Monday, Cory Cleek, Work Experience Coordinator Nick DiTola, and Win Martinez become part of Armed Forces Career Month at Del Valle High School. The purpose of the program is to provide an open forum whereby students can realize their career goals and objectives through the armed forces. Each branch of the service scheduled weekly presentations to help students receive an insight into career programs.

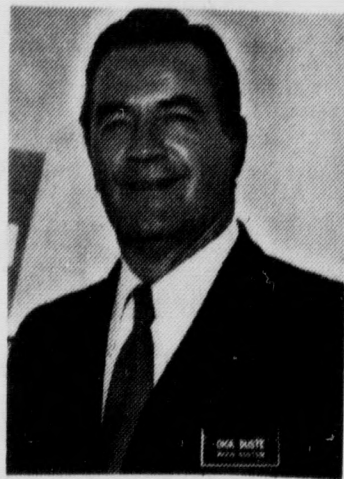

SR firm wins big Navy pact

SAN RAMON — MBAssociates, whose corporate headquarters are maintained in this city, has been awarded a $1.4 million Navy contract for production of radar chaff cartridge rolls, which are dispersed in mid-air to confuse enemy radar.

The contract also includes a 90-day option for purchase of more rolls, which if exercised could increase the contract to $3 million.

Under this system, radar chaff, made from aluminum-coated glass fibers, is ejected in cloud-like quantities from combat aircraft. The fibers resonate at various radar frequencies and thereby confuse enemy radar controlled missiles to allow safe penetration of friendly aircraft over highly-protected hostile target areas.

The radar chaff cartridge rolls will be produced at MBAssociates' new plant in Lillington, North Carolina.

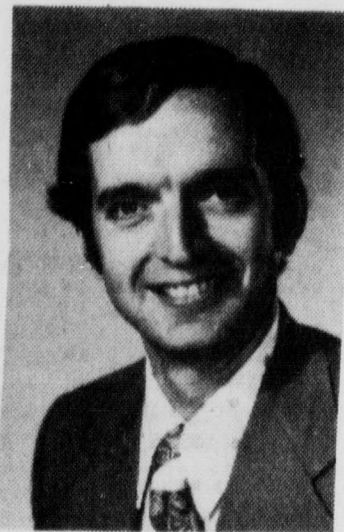

Airlines talk

Richard Duste, president of California Air Commuter and its parent organization, Marin Aviation, will be guest speaker at Tuesday's Pleasanton Chamber of Commerce luncheon meeting. The commuter line began flights between Livermore and San Francisco this past week. Chamber meetings are held at the Pleasanton Hotel starting at 12 noon.

PG&E move

Paul W. Beckendorf of Pleasanton has been appointed supervisor of Pacific Gas and Electric Company's McDonald Island underground natural gas storage field. Paul and his wife, Beverly, and their two children reside in Pleasanton.

World Savings Presents Hollywood

The stars... the movies... the glamour... the spectacular excitement of a gigantic movie premiere are yours to enjoy throughout November at World Savings. View fascinating displays of movie posters and publicity photos celebrating the laughter, tears, joy and pathos which have drawn millions of Americans to the movies ever since D. W. Griffith gave us "Birth of a Nation."

Take Home The "Oscars"

Accept our gift of a beautiful, nostalgic poster listing all of the actresses, actors and movies which have won the coveted "Academy Award." What actress captured a record of three "Oscars" for her starring performances? In what year did "It Happened One Night" sweep the top three awards? These facts—trivia to some, but fascinating to all—will be found on this delightfully-illustrated poster, commissioned by and produced exclusively for World Savings. Many of the illustrations appearing in this advertisement were taken directly from this fantastic poster.

You will also receive another unusual free gift... a historic movie poster and information about some of the all-time great motion pictures, packaged in a way you wouldn't believe. The "Academy Award" poster and the mystery poster gift will enthrall you and the movie buffs in your family. Due to collector demand, supplies will be limited, so come into the nearest World Savings office for your souvenirs of Hollywood's "Golden Era."

Special Guest Stars and Extra Added Attractions

Meet Tarzan in person at selected World Savings offices! Johnny Weissmuller, who gained immortality for his screen portrayals of the magnificent "King of the Jungle," will present you with a personally autographed picture.

Meet Hollywood's most famous Irish tenor! Dennis Day, star of stage, screen, radio and television, will also make selected guest appearances.

Watch your local newspaper for dates, times and locations of these and other thrilling events.

A Spectacular Cast of Free Services

World Savings has some big names in its starring roster of valuable free services for savers. With a minimum $1,000 savings balance, you can get free American Express Travelers Cheques (we pay the fee). Even Hollywood moguls jump at World's money-saving free financial services such as:

- ★ Free Safe Deposit Box
- ★ Free Checking Account Through Cooperating Banks
- ★ Free American Express Travelers Cheques (we pay the fee)
- ★ Free Money Orders
- ★ Free Trust Deed Collection Service
- ★ Free Notary Service

Co-Starring Our Best Insured Savings Plans

To tide them over between pictures or save for a lifetime of pleasure, stars seek good investments, such as one of World's high-interest, insured savings plans. For example, World pays 8.06% * / 7.75% on $1,000 certificates held a minimum of 6 years, maximum of 10. You can double your money at this generous high rate in less than 9 years when interest and principal are held in your account and compounded continuously. On all of our accounts, World pays more than any bank is permitted to pay. Don't settle for less with your savings.

*Effective annual yield when principal and interest are held in the account and compounded continuously. NOTE: Federal regulations require a substantial interest penalty for early withdrawals from certificates.

Also Starring Tax-Sheltered Retirement Plans. No Trustee Fee

For their retirement, stars and extras alike seek tax-sheltered retirement programs. For self-employed persons or those not covered under a retirement plan, World can establish a tax-sheltered Keogh Plan or Individual Retirement Account. As an added benefit, World Savings will waive the customary trustee fee for the life of the account on all tax-sheltered retirement plans opened before December 31.

Attend The World Premiere Today

The World Premiere will play at all World Savings branches throughout November. Attend today. While you're there, review our outstanding cast of valuable free services and maximum-interest savings plans. Let one of our helpful, courteous savings specialists be your usher while you discover how we can help you get more out of this World.
